

Inspector Andy Poole

- Changes to Policing and the impact of the digital age.

Traditional Crimes

- Dwelling burglaries –
- Keys in locks
- Garden tools
- Gone on holiday?

Social Media and Insurance

- A survey last year of 50 former criminals by the insurance company More Than found that 68% conducted considerable research on a target's daily routine before attempting to steal.
- Over 12% said they had used social networking sites to do their research. Richard Taylor, a former burglar told The Telegraph last year, "In the old days you could buy information from a postman or from a milkman, about who was away on holiday. Now people are online giving you updates about going to the airport, about sipping their coffee, about everything."

Drug Driving

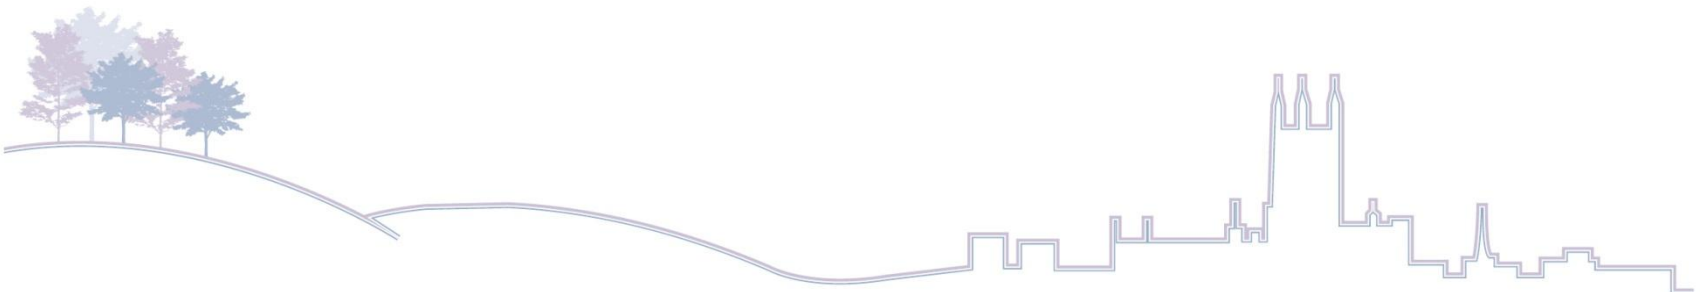

‘New Stroud Speed camera snares 25,000 vehicles in just one week’, Stroud Life

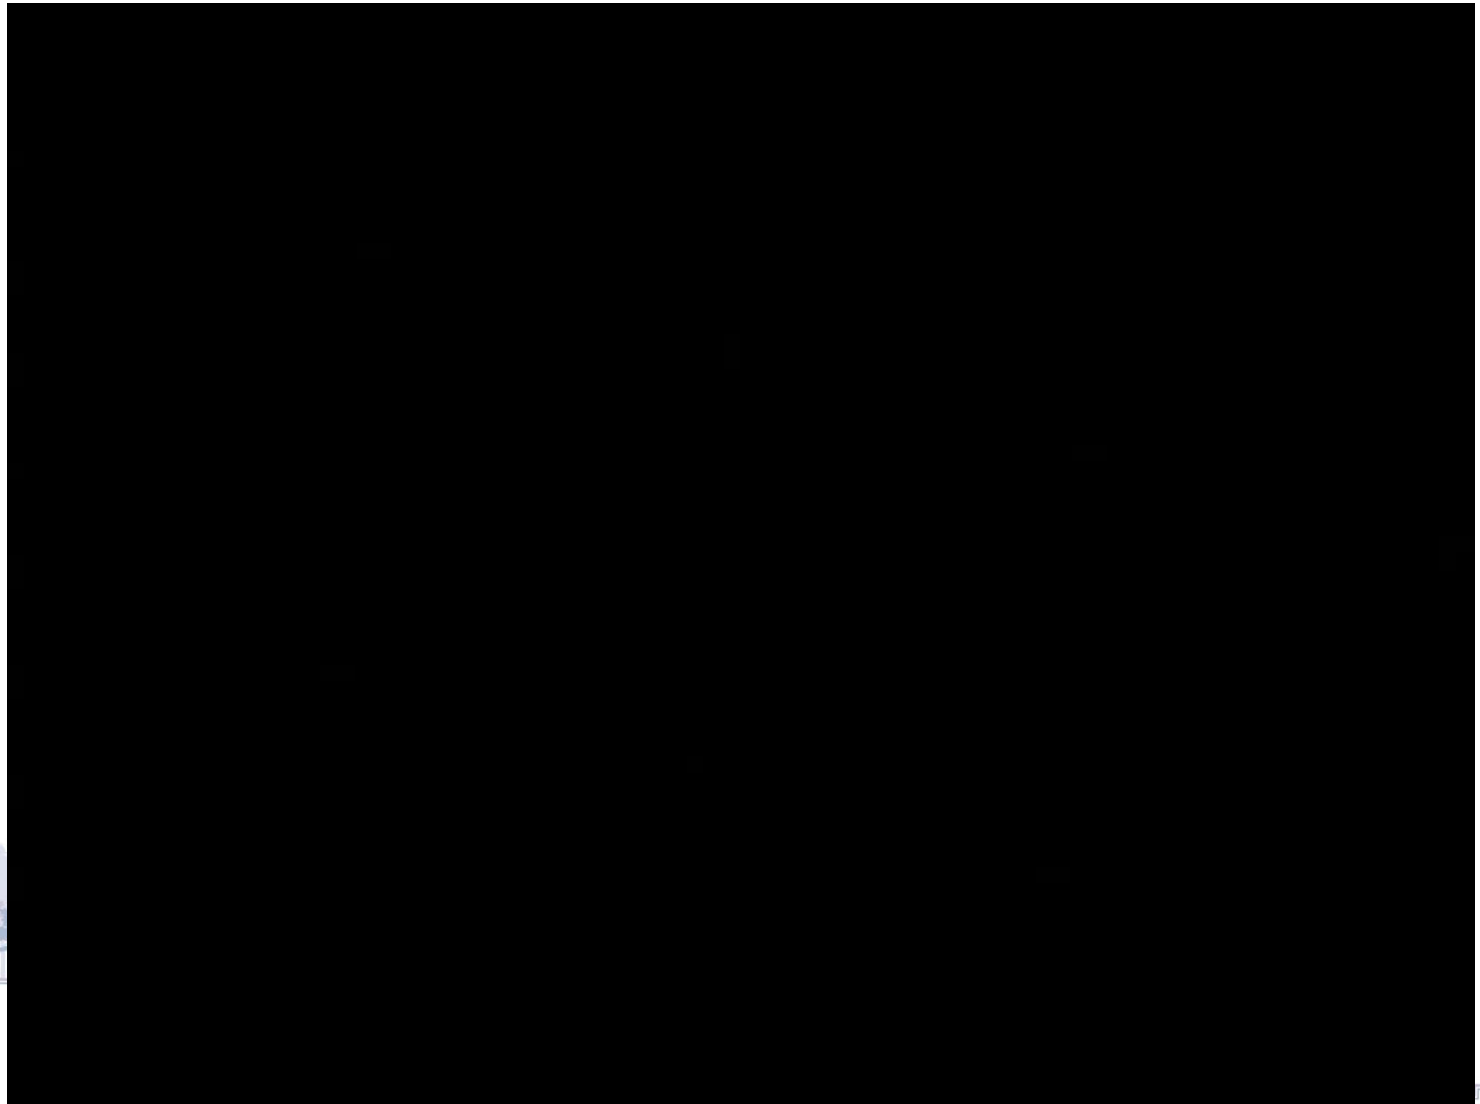

Op Chinook

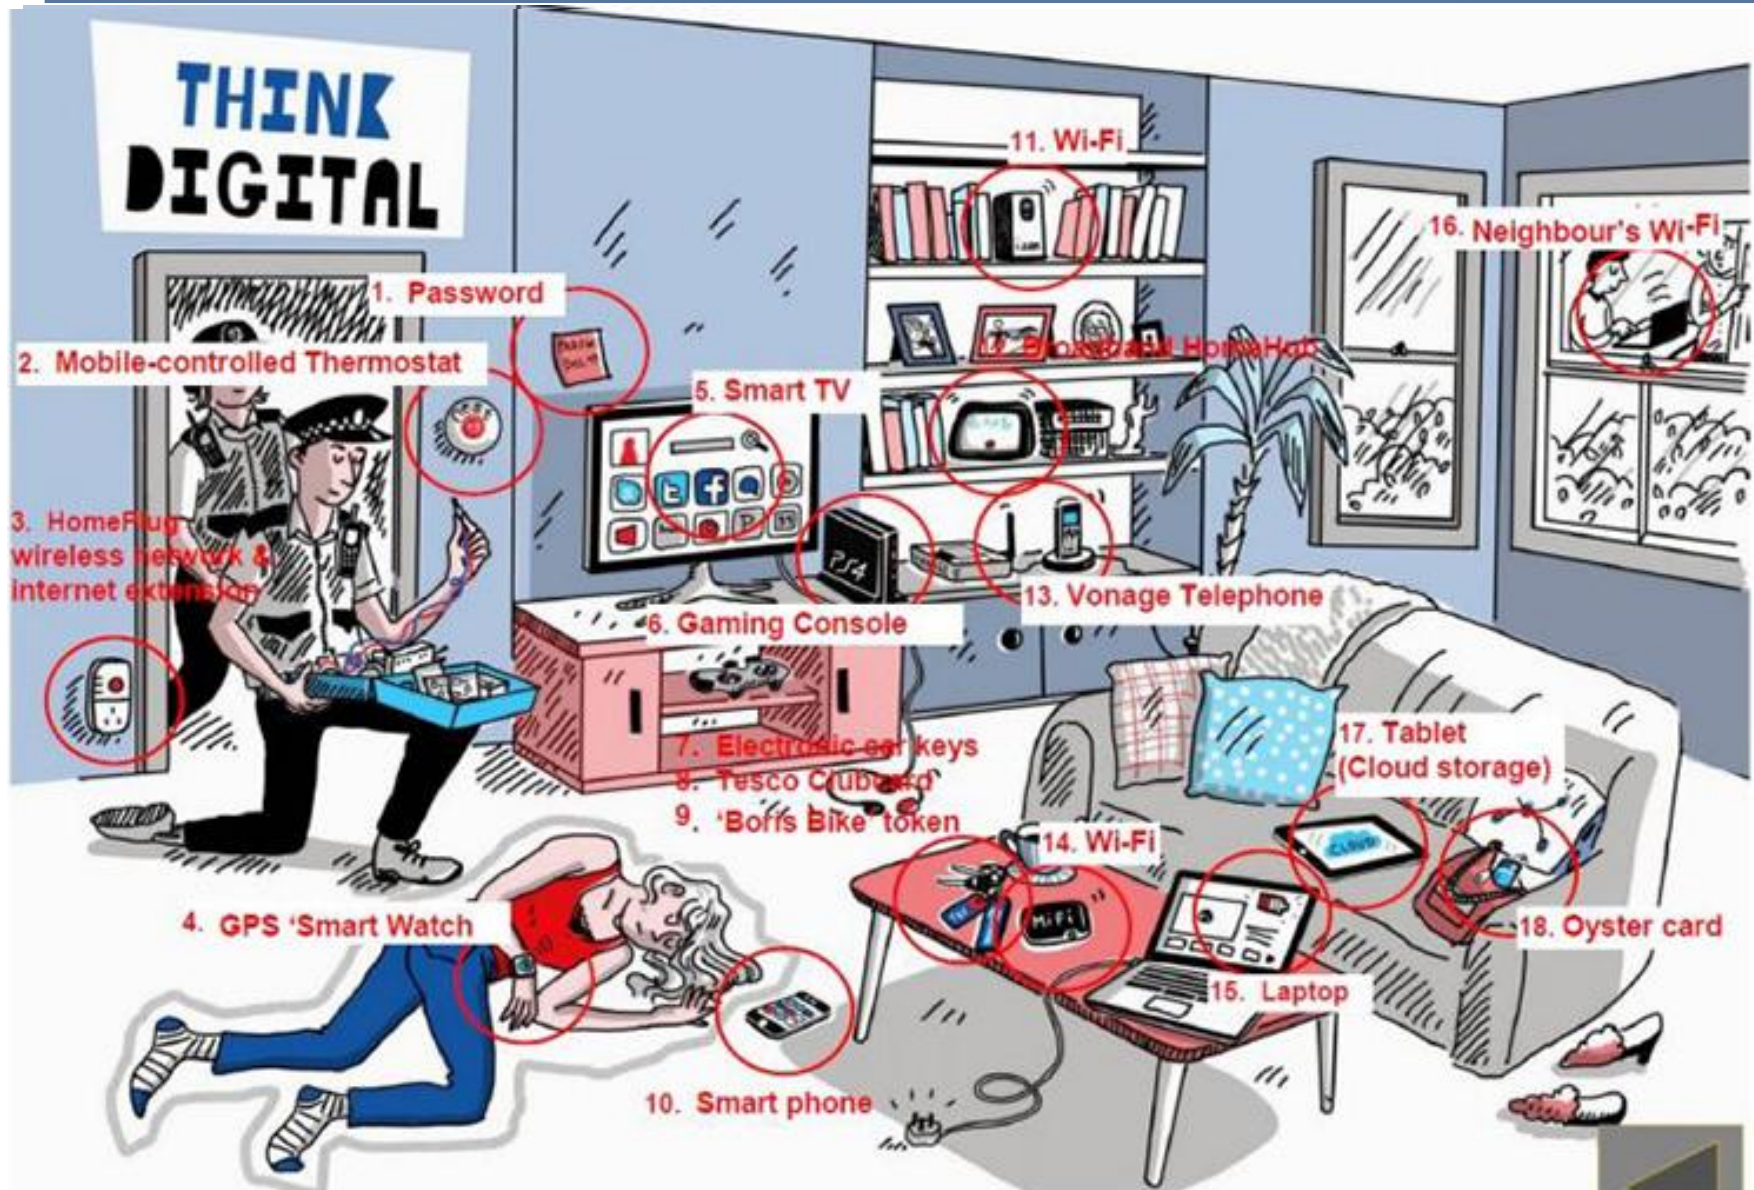

- Spy your PIN (supermarkets).
- Distract you in the car park.
- Steal your cards.
- Go shopping as quick as they can!

You don't need to be psychic anymore!

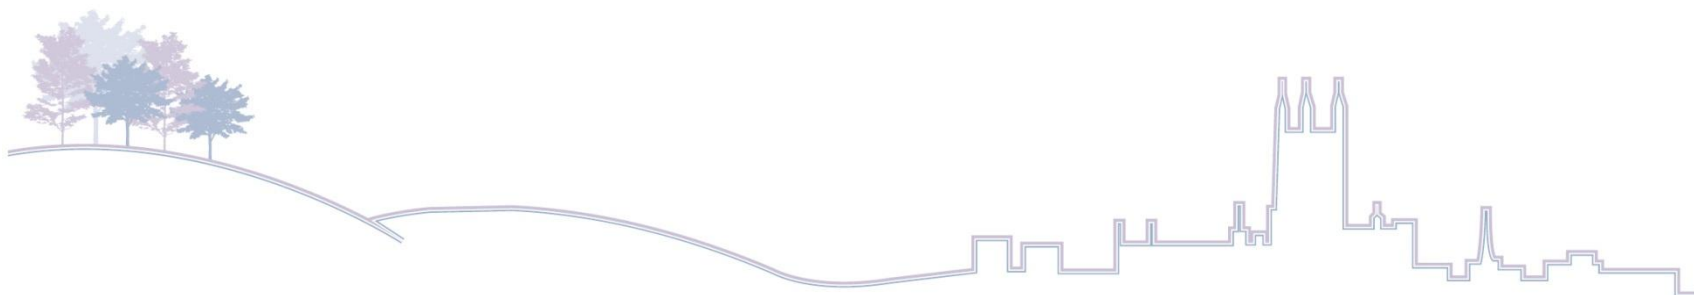

Police Investigations are changing.

New lines of enquiry...

- IP address and who pays for it?
- Burglar – got a vehicle? Got a tracker in it for insurance?
- Burglary – suspect an ex partner – router hand shook their device?
- Stolen property, phones etc. Got a tracker?

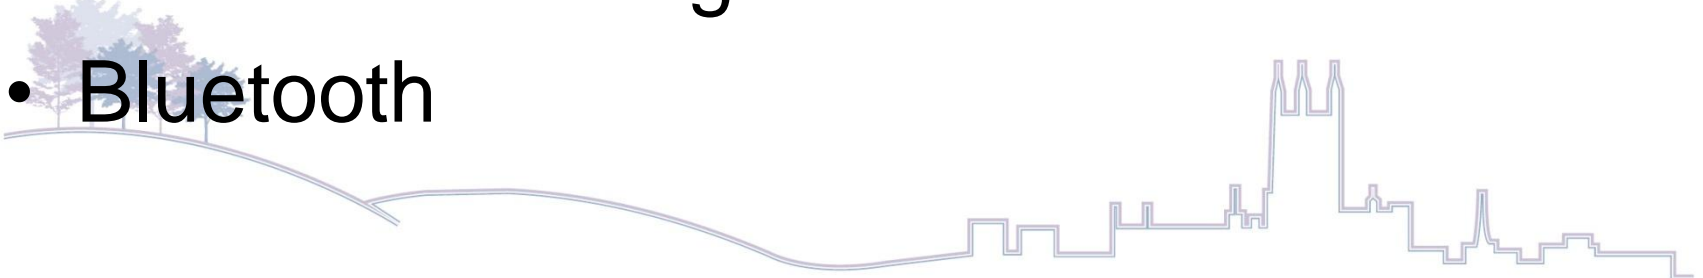

Know who is talking to you child?

Surrey Police call handler talking to Lorin LaFave about her son Breck Bednar

Online Help

- <https://www.gloucestershire.police.uk/>
- <https://www.nspcc.org.uk/preventing-abuse/child-abuse-and-neglect/bullying-and-cyberbullying/>
- Password manager
- Bluetooth

Conclusion

- Traditional crimes are the tip of the iceberg...

then there is cyber crime!

